How To Feed With Peace Of Mind

Have you ever wondered whether your horse's feed is right, or felt overwhelmed by conflicting nutrition advice?

Have you spent money on supplements without knowing if they were needed?

Have you worried about weight, coat condition, hoof health, digestion or performance?

Tried different feeds and felt confused?

Feeding a horse isn't just about filling a bucket. It's about providing the right balance of nutrients so the horse stays healthy, sound, and happy throughout its life.

And with so many conflicting opinions, supplements, and commercial feeds available, many owners struggle to know if what they're feeding truly meets their horse's nutritional needs.

"FeedXL has made a huge difference with my being confident that I am feeding my young horse in a way I meet all their nutritional needs. I was shocked when I first designed their diet that what I thought was a great feeding regime was in fact way over the top for some minerals and way under for others – and I thought I was giving them a balanced diet!! So it brings reality to what they actually need not what I think they should be having so I am very appreciative of the work you have done." – Cathy

What Is FeedXL and How Does It Work?

At its core, FeedXL is an online horse nutrition calculator that evaluates your horse's diet and compares what they are currently being fed with what they actually need.

You input basic information about your horse such as age, weight, work level, and health conditions along with what you are feeding (including hay, pasture, concentrates, and supplements).

FeedXL then calculates the nutrient intake and highlights any deficiencies or excesses compared to scientifically supported requirements.

FeedXL gives you step-by-step setup, visual results, and guided diet adjustments making it easy to know what is working – or not.

What I'm Feeding Seems Okay

It might seem okay, but missing nutrients or too much supplementation over time, can have long term, sometimes irreversible effects on your horse.

FeedXL is a game-changer for horse owners who want their horses to thrive. It empowers YOU to create diets that support health, performance, and longevity.

Whether you're a seasoned rider or a first-time owner, FeedXL gives you the confidence to feed smarter, and that confidence is priceless.

Diets that seem "good" are often unbalanced, and FeedXL makes this visible in easy to understand graphs. This reassurance brings genuine peace of mind, knowing your horse is supported nutritionally for their age, condition, workload, and health.

Many owners also find they save money by removing unnecessary supplements and focusing only on what their horse truly needs.
